

STANFORD, KY., SEPT. 1, 1874.

HOME JOTTINGS.

A GREAT many new additions to the Stanford Female College this week from Georgia and other places.

MR. SAMBROOKS, proprietor of the River-side Hotel, at Lexington, was in town Wednesday and paid us a call.

As each week of the Louisville Industrial Exposition progresses the number of visitors from this part of the State increases.

Our friend Joe Miller, we understand, is highly pleased with his new position, his house giving him two sundays instead of one in each week.

With pleasure we announce the return of Miss Ellinora H. who will remain at least another year as an assistant teacher in Stanford Female College.

G. H. ENSEL sells goods at Grange prices. G. H. ENSEL keeps the best quality of goods.

G. H. ENSEL cannot be undersold by any merchant.

The best bargains to be had anywhere is at G. H. ENSEL.

Please call and settle your account at BOHON & STAGGS.

For anything and everything you want go to G. H. ENSEL for it.

Best Wrapping Paper at wholesale prices, at BOHON & STAGGS'.

Go to G. H. ENSEL for the cheapest goods to be bought anywhere.

Five thousand old papers for sale at this office—at ten cents per dozen.

G. H. ENSEL knows how to select the latest and best styles of goods.

Hayden reports the mammoth stock of goods for the season at BOHON & STAGGS.

Flouring Mill, at $2.50 to $3.50, according to quality.

Texas has opened the war on high prices and offers a new stock of goods in his line at the lowest figures.

G. H. ENSEL buys so many goods that wholesale merchants turn to him cheaper than where they sell smaller stocks.

EVERYBODY is invited to G. H. ENSEL, in Somersett, to examine his immense stock of goods, and the price he sells at.

It is generally conceded that G. H. ENSEL, at Somersett, keeps the most attractive stocks of dry goods offered in that market.

Those indebted to us please call and settle immediately, as we are greatly in need of funds to meet our demands. CARSON & DODDS.

NO man (Uncle E. not excepted) ever saw a richer or prettier girl than that received by Thomas Balford from Gauden & Stephens' mines yesterday.

ALL persons indebted to S. H. Matheny & Co. are reminded that their accounts are now due, and they are requested to make settlements at once without further notice.

FOR A FIRST-CLASS ARTICLE go to a first-class house, and as such we recommend the great Clothing House of J. Winter & Co., Louisville. See their splendid assortment.

A FINE farm in Wayne county convenient to river navigation and only ten miles from the Cincinnati Southern Railroad crossing at Burnside Point—advertised for sale in this issue. Read it.

THE man who will expend his money to let the people know what he has for sale will not spare either pains or money to please his customers. Such a man is G. H. Engel, at Somersett, Ky.

G. H. ENSEL is, undoubtedly, one of the most thorough mercantile men in Southeast Kentucky, and the people of Pulaski appreciate him as is clearly evidenced by the very large trade he commands.

THERE was a considerable decline in the price of some goods while Hayden was in the market and right well did he take advantage of it for the benefit of his customers and those who buy at the lowest.

FOR SALE.—A 25-inch corn Burr, "Queen of the South"—in good running order; also a Gardner Smut Mill, used but a short time, for sale at the Stanford Woolen and Flouring Mills. Address, R. Mattingly & Co., proprietors, Stanford, Ky.

THE MERCHANT TAILORING DEPARTMENT of the great Clothing House of J. Winter & Co., Louisville, is the second to be filled with most choice selected from the market affords. Their cutters are skilled artists, and a fit is always insured.

MR. HENRY BAUGHMAN and Col. Miller are preparing to rebuild at once their stables which were burned recently. Mr. Baughman will build his out of brick, making it large and conveniently arranged, to the market affords. Their cutters are skilled artists, and a fit is always insured.

WHEN YOU BUY YOUR CLOTHING you want a good article at a fair price. At the great Clothing House of J. Winter & Co., Louisville, you will be satisfied with quality and price. Every article is guaranteed, and at prices lower than the lowest.

TICKET TROTTING at the Kentucky Trotting Horse Association, at Lexington, will commence September 29, and continue five days. They promise to be the most interesting character to all lovers of the horse, and will no doubt largely attended. See advertisement.

WHERE STORE are you looking for? N. R. Texas? Why? Because a great many of my friends have gone there and bought boots, shoes, hats and clothing, at such low figures. I want to give them a trial. That right. You will find have dealt with the right man after dealing with Texas.

NOTICE.—On the 12th of October, it being county court day, I will proceed to sell at public outcry, in Stanford, all of the household furniture of the late Mrs. F. M. Hayden, consisting of numerous bedsteads, 2 sets of can bottom chairs, 1 set of parlor chairs, 1 set of rock, wash stands, several feather beds, 1 cook stove, &c. W. C. TAYLOR, A. M.

SAY MISTER? can you tell me where I can buy a good hat, pair of boots and a good No. 1, suit of clothes, cheap price? I can, and I will tell you the name of Mr. B. Taylor, Stanford and you can get the very thing you want at your own price. He makes them a specialty and has just returned from Louisville and Cincinnati with a very large stock of the latest style of hats, boots and shoes and ready-made clothing.

NEW OUTLET TO THE EAST.—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is building a road through to Chicago, and will soon have it completed and trains running. It runs parallel with and alongside of the Michigan Southern road some thirty miles out of Chicago and toward the head of the lake; thence it runs through Indiana, Ohio, midway between the Michigan Southern and Pittsburg & Fort Wayne roads, and thence Southward to the Ohio river, where it connects with the main line of the Baltimore & Ohio road, striking some of the wealthiest towns in Indiana and Ohio. It has the easiest cuts and has a grade of 1 in 1000, crossing the system of north and south lines converging toward Lake Erie, and makes no less than thirteen connections with the most important of these lines. At Tiffin it connects with the Cincinnati, Sandusky & Cleveland, and the Mansfield & Lake Michigan railroads; at Poston with the Lake Erie & Western, and with the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton; at Defiance with the Ohio State Canal, and the Toledo, Walash & Western railroad, which drains all Southern Illinois and extends into Missouri and Kansas, operating in all over 1200 miles of road. In connection with the new line of road from Toledo the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, or any line now in operation. By means of the road named the company obtained the advantage of having no less than three competing lines to Toledo, thus securing at all times the lowest competitive rates. It promises to be one of the most useful, as it will be one of the best conducted roads east from Chicago.

OUR READERS will remember that in our last issue we gave an account of the killing of a negro man named Robert W. by several parties. The four young men who were arrested had their trial, and Tuttle and Wolfe were discharged—and also Bibb—and the only one who was held for final examination was Joseph Hughes. After a patient examination of his case he was held for further trial at the Circuit Court, next October, and was refused bail. As the case was then ably arrayed by the advocates, and expounded by the Judge and interpreted by the jury. We had some spirited sparing on both sides by the counsel, and sparkle of humor and scintillations of wit like another meteoric shower. But Berry's ending, given on the Irish character, was master, and when he wound up with his summing up the Irish were fit in integrity, first in eloquence, foremost in the deadly battlefield. "The effect was electric." The jury made up their verdict upon the majority principle—which verdict having been altered and amended, was adopted as the judgment of the court. Suit gained as defendants. I wished to tell the adventures of the elite of our village at the Exposition, but have not room to do so. We regret very much, on the account of his mother, as well as on his own account, that he has been sent to the gloomy prison of our country, but then we know that "the way of the transgressor is hard." Young Hughes may be innocent. If he should go to prison himself, we shall be glad to record the fact.

"UNCLE" Louis Hocker, who, for several years, has been afflicted with a disease technically termed by dermatologists Leucous Figuratus, which means a whitening or growing white, resulting very possibly from a simple arrest of pigment formation, is Chameleon-like; again changing color; but this time it is Melasma Figuratus. Merely, what jaw-breaker! A darkening of the skin, which is, no doubt, very disconcerting to Uncle Louis, as he imagines himself to be on the advanced waves of abolition regeneration, and not at all troubled with an affection of the pigment system. "Sic is life." We can assure "our Uncle" that his disorder is comparatively unimportant, except a deformity. At present he is not as pretty as in his childhood's boyish days.

THE Presbytery of Transylvania met at the Paint Lick church in Garrard county the 15th, last, and was opened by a sermon by Rev. W. T. McElroy the last moderator present. The body then organized by electing Rev. J. A. Bogle moderator and Edmund A. Hovious clerk. Several of the members were absent for satisfactory reason, Dr. Pratt, Brock and Barber of the Central University were present. Dr. Pratt preached on Wednesday and Dr. Junkin on Thursday. The following is a condensed synopsis of his proceedings: The Object of the Teachers Association, address by the President—Prof. G. W. Chevis. School Government, address by Elder R. A. Hovious. Reduction of Compound Numbers, class exercise by the Rev. Wade. Mental Arithmetic by D. W. Coleman. Evening session—Long Division, blackboard demonstrations, D. W. Coleman Primary Grammar, class exercise, by S. M. Williams. What Age Should Pupils be before Entering School, discussion by N. W. Hughes, S. M. Williams, A. B. Williams, R. A. Hovious, Col. S. Adams, and D. B. Goode. The Importance of the Blackboard in the School-room, by Rev. Wade. Popular Education the Hope of the South, paper, E. Tarrant. The interesting exercises were closed by one of the most interesting addresses we have listened to in many days, by the President—Prof. G. W. Chevis, on Teachers and education matters in the South. As there was a unanimous demand by the audience for its publication, and a copy was promised by the Professor for that purpose, we forbear giving a synopsis. The association adjourned to meet at Mt. Olive on the 3d Saturday in October.

ETHELBERT.

DOCTOR LIEU HUFFMAN, one of our best young professional men, after a number of years of labor in the office of a Dental Surgeon, has commenced business on his own responsibility, and has opened an elegant office on the west side of Lancaster street, in Stanford, where he will be ready, at all reasonable hours, to wait upon those in need of a Dental Surgeon. We predict for Doctor Huffman an honorable position in his profession.

THE Champion Fire Extinguisher ordered from the Champion Fire Extinguisher Company, of Louisville, have been received and placed at various places in town, thought to be the most appropriate ones for the general protection of the town against fire. This action of the Board was indeed a wise one, and clearly shows that it is looking after the interests of the town.

GEORGETOWN.—Col. Caldwell reports a favorable day and good attendance, with 350 cattle on the market, and all sold brought good prices. Cattle, sheep and hogs did not sell briskly.

DONVILLE.—H. T. Bush reports 30 head of good cattle averaging about 1100 lbs., at 41 cents; 10 head yearlings at $25.00 per head; 14 head of calves at $15 per head; 7 head at $17.40 per head; 20 head of yearlings at $23.50 per head; 17 head of yearlings at $24 per head. Common horses sold from $50 to $100 per head. There were about 500 head of cattle on the market, nearly all of which changed hands at very good prices.
